What we do

How does Jack Rice Insurance protect my personal information?

To protect your personal information from unauthorized access and use, we use security measures that comply with federal law. These measures include computer safeguards and secured files and buildings.

Nonaffiliates that perform services for us are contractually bound to keep this information confidential. Employees are informed accordingly.

How does Jack Rice Insurance collect my personal information?

We collect your personal information, for example, when you

- file an application or file a claim
- provide account information or provide contact information
- transact business with our office

We also collect your personal information from others, such as insurance support organizations, as permitted by law.

Why can't I limit all sharing?

Federal law gives you the right to limit only

- sharing for affiliates' everyday business purposes—information about your creditworthiness
- affiliates from using your information to market to you
- sharing for nonaffiliates to market to you

State laws and individual companies may give you additional rights to limit sharing. We need to share information in our everyday business.
